About the Practice

Birbeck Medical Group is a semi-rural practice based at the Health Centre, Penrith. Currently we have 14,772 patients covering a 10 mile square radius. We have 3 GP Partners, 10 Salaried GP's, 1 Nurse Practitioner, 7 Practice Nurses, 2 Healthcare Assistants, 1 Phlebotomist and over 40 staff.

The Practice objectives are:

- To strive to provide quality patient centred care within realistic boundaries.
- To promote effective working within the primary health care team and community.
- To create a practice that supports and addressed the needs of those who are employed within it.

We offer a wide variety of services to all our patients. The nurses lead the chronic disease clinics along with travel health. We are also a designated yellow fever centre.

The Practice is fully computerised using the Emis Web clinical system, Docman for document management and Lexacom for digital dictation.

The Practice has been committed to GP training for many years, alongside F2 doctors and medical students. We have had integrated Training Posts (ITP) in Drug and Alcohol.
