The National Association of Clinical Tutors (NACT) was originally founded in 1969 to further the interests of what were then called District Clinical Tutors nationally and to help and support them in their work. Our membership has grown since then to encompass the variety of leading educators involved at the local level in the management and delivery of postgraduate medical education across the UK. Through our courses, workshops and conferences, we provide opportunities for our members and others to improve their skills and knowledge in the field of PGME. NACT UK liaises on behalf of its members with many national bodies involved in Medical Education. We communicate our knowledge of these to our membership through a long established information cascade system. To emphasise its role across the UK, on 10th May 2007 the members voted for the organisation to be known as NACT UK. Our association membership is primarily made up of: Clinical Tutors/ Directors of Medical Education/Faculty Leads (Wales), Foundation Programme Directors, SAS Tutors, Training Programme Directors, Associate Deans, College Tutors and MEMs (who are Members of NAMEM) although we are happy to consider anyone involved in PGME who share our aims.

INDEX TO REGIONS

Following HEE Board's decision to move from 13 LETBs to four new LETBs based on the four regions, the new LETB Chair appointments took effect from 1 August 2016:

- South, Jane Barrie;
- London & South East, Dame Christine Beasley;
- Midlands and East, Professor Gerry McSorley;
- North, Sally Cheshire;

The new LETBs will carry out the same functions as the previous 13 boards, but on a larger footprint. However, the 13 local HEE teams and the funding to these remain unchanged.
