Why we charge for the completion of private forms and letters

Patients often ask doctors to write letters, complete and sign medical forms or supply medical information to third parties. This work is not covered by the NHS contract and classed as Private work - this is completed in the Doctor's own time and Doctors are entitled to charge for providing this service.

Please hand in any forms/letter requests at reception - please do not make an appointment to complete this paperwork as the doctor will be unable to do so during surgery.

All requests are completed at the discretion of the practice. In order to complete or just sign even the simplest of forms the doctor may have to check a patient's entire medical record. We will contact you to advise the payment amount before completion.

NHS consultations with unwell patients must take priority over non-NHS work and forms. Private letters are unlikely to require medical urgency and so please allow 30 days from receipt of payment for your form to be completed. However, there may be a delay when there is a high number of requests or a doctor is absent from the practice and we will advise you if delays are expected. Thank you.
